THE STUDIO SCENE

Disney's classic tale of two Gnomes in search of a lost colony of little-people makes it's television debut when "The Gnome-Mobile", starring Walter Brennan, Tom Lowell, Matthew Garber and Karen Dotrice airs in two-parts on "The Wonderful World of Disney", Sunday evenings October 29 and November 5 on NBC-TV.

THE UNITED WAY: YOU COULD NEED THEM NEXT!

Over 82 agencies are supported by the United Way Campaign, a once-a-year fund-raising campaign to assist member agencies meet their financial obligations so that they may continue serving our community and the people who live in it. Without the money generated through the United Way Campaign, many of these agencies would have to close or drastically reduce the services they offer.

And you never know when you'll need assistance from one of our United Way agencies.

One cast member, Al Brewer of our Lake Buena Vista Maintenance Department found that he needed the assistance of the Children's Home, a United Way agency, when he wanted to adopt a baby boy. Although the adoption process is a lengthy and time-consuming one the Brewer family adopted their son last month. Ten-week old Stephen Michael is now happily at home at the Brewer household, and Al says he's a beautiful baby! Thanks to the help of this United Way agency, Stephen has a new home.

Al Brewer

Our United Way Campaign Chairman, Jill Krotky, told us that with one more week to go we have already reached over 50% of our total goal of $225,000. Many cast members are spending their days sorting the pledge cards as they arrive at Cast Activities. If you have not yet returned your pledge card, please return it to Cast Activities as soon as possible. Your contributions help the United Way work!

IT'S YOUR WORLD!

To help maintain the many cast areas which have recently undergone rehabs, a special maintenance crew whose sole responsibility is to repair, rehab and maintain all cast areas was organized. The crew members who are busy keeping your areas — from break rooms and cafeterias to locker rooms and employee restrooms — in tip-top condition are Kent Martin, Jean Nagata, Randy Arnold and Rich Hynes.

"It Takes People"

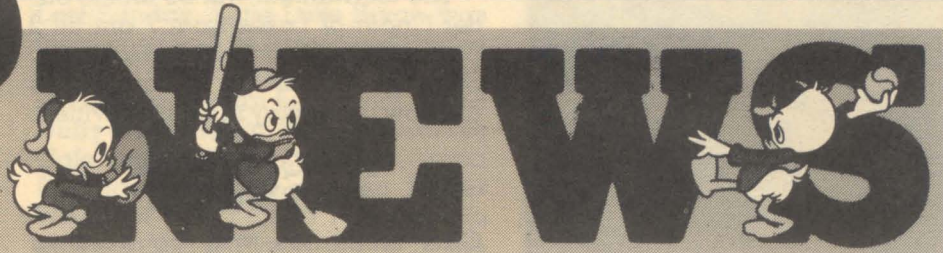

How can you hail from Connecticut and London at the same time? "It's easy," Randi Duch of Lake Buena Vista tells us, "If you're from New London, Connecticut!" A hostess at Capt. Jack's Oyster Bar in the Village today, Randi is a long way from the small town of Niantic outside New London, where she attended high school and later met her husband-to-be. After a stint with a CPA firm and marriage, she and her husband moved south, ending up in Central Florida. Of course, Walt Disney World was "the" place to work, so it wasn't long before Randi was hired as a waitress for the soon-to-be-built Golf Resort. She worked at the Polynesian Village, later returning to the Golf Resort and then Lake Buena Vista in 1975. When not at Capt. Jack's Oyster Bar, Randi enjoys art classes in pottery work, sailing and football . . . in fact, her "home" team is still the New England Patriots! Coming up in Randi's future are plans to begin real estate school. She recently changed from a permanent to casual regular cast member, when her husband was transferred to Port Orange, Florida. So for the present, Randi is a cast commuter.

This year will mark the Fourth Annual Art Festival in the Village and coordinating this year's event is an avid art fan herself, Jennie McGuire of Design and Development. As secretary to Kragh Lilleshorup, chairman of the Art Festival, Jennie finds that the majority of her time is spent working on arrangements for this event. Before moving to Florida to seek her fortune, Jennie worked at various jobs in her home state of Texas. In 1968 she was the secretary of the chief of press for the Hemisphere World's Fair. She joined the Disney cast in 1972 as a food and beverage hostess at the Golf Resort and later transferred to decorating as a Clerk-Typist. Jennie was promoted to Secretary in Design and Development last December. When she's not planning for the Art Festival, Jennie enjoys spending time with her husband, decorating their house, sewing, dancing and playing the Mandolin.

Our annual National Team Championship Golf Classic draws visitors from all over the country, and the man who is responsible for the advertising and promotion of this PGA event is Bob Raymond of Marketing. Originally from Pittsburg, Pennsylvania, Bob began a career in broadcasting immediately after high school graduation when he joined WKST in New Castle, Pennsylvania as a disc jockey. With the exception of a three year hitch in Germany with the Army, Bob spent the next eighteen years at numerous radio and television stations, including WKIS and WDBO here in Orlando. Bob was in New Orleans when our Opening Day announcements came and he headed back to the Sunshine State to join our cast in 1971 as a Senior Publicist. After five years in Publicity Bob transferred to Regional Marketing and is now part of the newly created Group Services Department. Despite the fact that one of his main projects is promoting our Golf Classic, Bob is not a golfer. His hobbies include dirt-track auto racing and playing jazz, and he occasionally finds time for a little woodworking and scuba diving.
